DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 7 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. In claim 7, the details of the storage compartment appear to be the same as those recited in claim 1, from which claim 7 ultimately depends.
4. Claim 19 depends from claim 18, which has been canceled. For purposes of examination, claim 19 is assumed to depend from claim 17.
5. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1, 3, 6-8, 11, 12, 14, 17 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abraham, US #1,068,621 in view of Cole, US #214,105.
8. Abraham teaches a storage and framing unit comprising frame 5 including a front surface and a rear surface (Figures 1 and 2), an aperture in the front surface for viewing a display (Figure 1) and display 12 held therein. A storage compartment (Figure 5) has a rear wall (8, Figure 2) and side walls (Figure 5) having opening 11 therein for insertion and removal of displays 12. Flanges 9 attach the storage compartment to the rear surface of the frame. Closure elements (binder rails) 13 have photo pages attached thereto and close off the opening when inserted in the storage compartment (Figure 3) and are adjacent the aperture.

Art Unit: 3611

9. Abraham does not teach the storage compartment as being slidably attached to the frame, however this is well known in the art, as taught by Cole. Cole teaches a frame (A) and a storage compartment (D) that are slidably attached by mounting rails and receiver channels (B, C). It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to attach the storage compartment of Abraham using slidable means (as in Cole) so that the storage compartment may be easily removed.

10. Claims 17 and 19 are considered to be an equivalent alternative, and are thus obvious in view of Abraham and Cole.

11. Claims 5, 10, 16 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abraham and Cole as applied to claims 3, 8, 14 and 19 above, and further in view of Kim, US #6,868,630.

12. Abraham and Cole do not teach using magnets however this is well known in the art. Kim teaches 15 and 16 for holding a display in place. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to utilize magnets in the frame of Abraham (as modified by Cole) to secure the photo display pages in place.

Response to Arguments

13. Applicant's arguments filed 03 February 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The closure elements of Abraham bind the photo sheets and close off the opening where the displays are inserted (Figure 3, Abraham). Regarding Cole, Applicant's arguments have been considered, however, the limitations of the claim have been met, regardless of how the frame must be disturbed to change the picture.
